Oral History Program Nomination

In 1974 the Concord Historical Commission launched the Town of Concord's official oral history program. Since that time, the program has collected interviews from hundreds of Concord citizens representing diverse aspects of Concord life. Their stories are preserved and made available in the William Munroe Special Collections of the Concord Free Public Library.

The purpose of this form is to nominate someone you think would be a good subject for an oral history interview. Please note, only a limited number of interviews are conducted each year due to limited staff and funds.
